

Certificate of participation and achievement

This certificate is awarded to

Maryna Shekmar

in recognition of their active participation and valuable contribution to the Transcultural Vinculation Project 2024, held from October to December 2024.

The project brought together students from nine universities worldwide and focused on the development of transcultural communication skills. Through student-led presentations, facilitated breakout discussions, and collaborative exploration of cultural and global issues, participants demonstrated the following skills: research and analysis, cross-cultural communication, presentation and public speaking, teamwork, facilitating and chairing, reporting and synthesis, and the ability to engage with diverse perspectives.
